Presenting Going Green & Historical Restoration Seminar

Today's environmentally conscience homeowners seek "green" builders to construct their homes with sustainable, recycled, and energy-efficient materials. When it comes to windows and doors, green builders choose products that will both stand the test of time and effectively manage the sun's rays with energy-efficient glazing. At Marvin, each window and door is built to last and utilizes the latest in glazing technology. All windows and doors come standard with dual-pane, insulating glass and are available with several glazing options, such as Low E II with Argon gas, to minimize summer heat gain and reduce heat loss in the winter.

Creating a Historic Look

Many Consumers want the technological benefits of new windows, couple with the historic character of windows from the past. With Marvin's custom capabilities, homeowners can enjoy superior energy efficiency and low-maintenance windows without sacrificing historic authenticity and integrity. Marvin's Made for You® philosophy ensures that whether building a new home or remodeling a 17th century masterpiece, homeowners can achieve the historic look they crave. With custom sizes, styles, wood species, clad colors, casings and more, homeowners can create authentic wood or clad wood windows for their exact needs.
